Chairman's Note

We continue to transform businesses of our worldwide customers by integrating capabilities along with expertise and ensuring visible business outcomes every time.

Globally, the last year has been dynamic with respect to the way technology was consumed, leveraged and used across economies and industries. Digitalization continues to hold centre stage in the way companies recruit, sell, create and profit. Social, cloud, analytics and big data have grown in terms of their reach and sphere of influence, directly impacting the way we work with technology. Internet of Things has become omnipresent, affecting various aspects at an individual, corporate, city and community level. It is important to leverage these all-pervasive trends as they act as barometers to success, helping one maintain relevance to changing needs of customers.

Zensar's vertical-centric approach continues to display rewarding visible results with double digit growth. One of the highlights includes ramping up of our focus in the growth oriented e-commerce and retail space with the successful acquisition of Professional Access. Our focus on strategic deals and new client acquisitions across the geographies we operate in, has helped us in creating value for our shareholders consistently.

We continue to transform businesses of our worldwide customers by integrating capabilities along with expertise and ensuring visible business outcomes every time. The key areas of focus continue to remain across manufacturing, insurance, and retail, with new capabilities in the emerging world of digital enterprise. Our profitability comes from our multi-faceted set of offerings, operations and the pool of talent inherent across locations.

Complexity still remains a challenge across various technology processes and implementations, with a need to offer diverse solutions to customers. Diversity in Zensar is a strategic thought, platform, culture and a business oriented approach. Zensar makes diversity come alive through its people, global operations and multiple offerings across the length and breadth of the spectrum. We bring in diversity in our partnerships with industry leaders as well as our customers.

It is good to see Zensar practicing this culture of diversity as a way to help customers achieve their goals and in turn create enriching growth path for its people as well as the community too. I am positive that Zensar will continue in its quest towards paving the path for clear visible business outcomes for all its customers and shareholders alike.

CEO's Note

Celebrating Diversity to enhance value

Diversity is a core pillar of the growth Zensar has achieved in the last few years and will be the fuel that propels us towards creating enhanced value for our shareholders, customers, associates and the communities around us. It is the thread that binds us seamlessly. At Zensar, we are convinced that the core of our value creation process is our respect for diversity.

This diversity is not just a fortuitous collection of people from different backgrounds; it is a planned investment in diversity with the objective to enrich our organisational fabric. This diversity is celebrated in our approach to customer projects, people and the partnering approach we take in all our CSR initiatives with the community. A look at our culture and nationality mix in key markets like the USA and South Africa, our project mix from transformational national initiatives to point solutions for digital transformation and our unique focus on triple bottom lines will bring out the distinctiveness in the Zensar approach.

The more diverse we have become as an organisation, the stronger our business has evolved. The more businesses we have entered into, the stronger has been our derisking. The wider our geographic presence, the stronger our organisational fabric to respond to opportunities. The wider we have accessed merit, the higher has been the upside arising out of people retention. The wider the complement of ages, the richer the mix between experience and enthusiasm translating into stronger project deliveries.

Simply put; diversity drives us to remain competitive and profitable as it is clearly visible in our consistent financial performance.

Zensar reported a return on equity of 22.85 per cent in 2014-15, which was considerably higher than the prevailing cost of capital in India. The company has cash and cash equivalents of ₹ 290.37 crore at the close of the year under review. Zensar enriched shareholder value, reporting a market capitalisation of ₹ 2844.45 crore at the close of 2014-15, growing 74 per cent during the year under review.

We became a full-fledged software services organisation in the year 2000 and in the fifteen years since, there is no mountain we have not dared to ascend and no path we have been afraid to tread because it has not been travelled before. Our approach to people management and our ambidextrous innovation agenda have been enshrined in two successful case studies at the Harvard Business School in USA. We are poised towards blazing new trails, as we step into new frontiers made of multi-faceted technologies, business practices and dynamic economies. We are ready to achieve greater heights and enable all our stakeholders to enjoy enhanced value and success.

Diversity drives Empowerment

At Zensar, we believe that the most successful and enduring companies are those that leverage unique facets of both genders. An amalgamation of two distinct leadership styles that complement, bring in value as well enrich the culture is driven by this approach at Zensar.

■ For women retention, company policies are crafted to understanding their specific needs and ensuring they remain productive even while fulfilling personal obligations. Flexible working hours, on-campus crèche in the Pune office, time-off scheme and work-from-home flexibility, ensure 91% of women associates who take maternity leave, return to full-time engagement.

The result - even as overall Zensar attrition was 12.7% in 2014-15, women attrition was lower at 11.4%.

■ In order to bring in a sense of sensitivity in the community, Zensar Foundation organised gender sensitisation programs for boys in the 13-16 age bracket, building a sense of respect for women.

Tixo Augustus, Nigerian & US citizen – Having worked in almost a dozen countries across four continents and lived in the USA, Nigeria, the UK, China, India and currently, South Africa, Tixo is fluent in English, Mandarin and Yoruba. It is Tixo's belief that the key to being a world class transformation partner lies in understanding the culture of each of our clients. If we know who you are now and where you've been, we can help you get to where you want to be she says.

Katri Sten, Finnish citizen –in addition to her mother tongue of Finnish has learnt English, German, French, Danish and Swedish and has lived across four continents in France, Germany, Denmark, US, Mauritius and most recently spent 6 months in India. Katri is now based out of Zensar's Amsterdam office. Through her multicultural experiences has come to believe that respecting individual and cultural differences is the way to come up with the most unique and interesting solutions. Through all her travels she has learnt how much one doesn't know, and how not knowing reveals the endless opportunities in this world to do things differently.

Diversity in opinion

The best way to kill an idea is to dismiss it as something ahead of its time. "At Zensar, we've created an environment where we champion such ideas instead. Instead of ignoring something that may appear to be a crazy idea, we are more likely to respond with 'Sounds interesting. What else can make this more interesting?', says Prameela Kalive, Executive Vice President, Strategic Services and Location Head, Pune.

Empowerment creates opportunity for leadership and thus creates a sustainable leadership pipeline.

Zensar's Vision Community (introduced in 2001) is Zensar's signature Diversity and Inclusion initiative where cross functional teams engage in strategy building exercises. During the year under review, the Vision Community attracted more than 13 large scale ideas from associates across functions and levels directed at making Zensar 'best-in-class'. The ideas are reviewed by a Shadow Executive Board, Strategy Team and Strategy Management Council. Eventually, three ideas were selected for development and handed over to functional owners, a testament to Zensar's culture of inclusiveness, openness, freedom and innovation.

At Zensar, we believe that the best ideas can come from anywhere.

This inspires every individual Zensarian to believe that anyone's opinion could be the game changer.

Diversity in Projects

The company has a vast set of experiences amassed from global projects – diverse in region, technologies, scope and complexity.

Each project brings in its own set of challenges and opportunities

■ One team has worked on a global Oracle ERP rollout across 20 countries for a leading American gaming company – while another has worked on a preconfigured SAP solution for a medium sized dairy in a remote village in India

■ One team has helped a large American Retailer enhance its sales by 28% through ecommerce technologies – while another has built a complete warehouse management solution including physical restructuring of the warehouse in Kenya

■ One team has helped create digital identities for citizens through large scale digitization of public records – while another has worked with leading American health insurance company improving customer experience through self-service with 47% increase in customer adoption and 1 M USD cost savings per year

Diversity in community programs

Bringing people together for diverse community programs

Zensar began to engage with communities around its facilities well before the term 'corporate social responsibility', had extended into popular use. The company recognised that it could not expect to be sustainable if the needs of immediate communities remained unaddressed. Much like monocular vision. Zensar Foundation is an independent trust managing various activities for socio-economic development. Zensar sustains the environment, enhances employability skills and empowers communities with its associates stepping in to give time and resources to create better communities.

At Zensar, we invested in scalable community programmes across locations. Despite volunteering not being a mandate, over 20% of our associates in India have participated in some form of volunteering in 2014-15-we want this to be a culture tying all the diverse ends.

Zensar Africa's employability skills development program

Seven years ago Zensar embarked on a skill development programme focused on young South African graduates. This initiative is in keeping with the employability skills development approach followed across the company. The customised training model reinforced the 'Proudly South African', vision which is in sync with the BEE (Black Economic Empowerment) blueprint.

Zensar's program has been enhancing student employability by familiarising them with services-oriented solutions and evolving processes to create a pool of globally employable talent. The company engaged its clients within South Africa to provide training and internship to the students. The students are also sent to India for a two month-long training drill in a live workplace environment at Zensar's expense. Zensar has trained more than 200 students and graduated 170 of them to full-time employment at Zensar's Johannesburg centre and other client offices.

"At Zensar we don't believe we are in existence only to improve our bottomline, we are here to enhance value for all our stakeholders and to make the world a better place. This makes us more complete as professionals, it makes us more humane."

who spends precious personal time in community mobilization initiatives.

"I came to India for an eventful 2.5 months on enhanced technology led training. I returned, not only with enhanced skills but also an exposure to a vibrant cultural exposure. On my return, I was placed in a project with one of the most prestigious clients in South Africa where I grew subsequently to take on more responsibilities in a fast paced environment. I am learning each day and getting an opportunity to be more open about new experiences at work and outside."

Sikhosiphi Ntuli

a product of the Learnership Development Program, who came out successful through the program.

Towards the Billion Dollar Dream in 2020 - diverse paths leading to the one goal. With One Zensar.

Given the diversity of people, projects and programs that Zensar has across the globe, there is a continuous need to integrate them to a singular objective. The company embarked on this significant initiative christened as One Zensar, to build a commonality of purpose towards the end client's business transformation – and in the process, to create a position of leadership in that space.

This organisation wide initiative has helped align individual goals with organisation goals, bringing together the forces from across various services at Zensar towards satisfying the stated and latent needs of customers, and underlining Zensar's identity as a one-stop-solution provider.

As a means to this end, the company reformulated and redrafted its vision, mission, values and goals and conducted a series of workshops globally, to align every Zensarian with them.

The initiative has further consolidated the perspective on the need for diversity, and the potency of a commonality of purpose across the various realms that Zensar has successfully positioned itself as an integrated solution provider today.

The Company is making significant investments in software automation for accelerated time to market. DevOps is an essential enterprise capability for continuous software delivery that enables organizations to seize market opportunities and reduce time to customer feedback. DevOps is a methodology that unites the often separate functions of software development (Dev) and production and operations (Ops) into a single, integrated, and continuous process. DevOps is about breaking down the barriers between development and operations. It leverages people, processes, and technology to stimulate collaboration and innovation across the entire software development and release process. Dev and Ops must act and feel like they are a single team. There are concerted efforts towards creating DevOps leading to integrated offerings across the application services business and adding more value to customers.

Digital is the preferred mode to connect with customers, employees and partners today. Social conversations not only give a peek into customer behavior but also give a glimpse into competition. However, the journey doesn't end here. 97% of the social is chatter and only the remaining 3% is useful for businesses. Therefore there is a large untapped opportunity in converting these conversations into business insights that helps in driving strong customer relationship and seamless service experience.

ZenSocial enables businesses to 'listen and respond', 'analyse and interpret', and 'connect and engage' with all their stakeholders. With 'ZenSocial' companies can use social to go 'beyond listening', that is beyond just monitoring brand health – and can manage complaints and support customers, improve products and services through social data and improve target segmentation and personalization. The Industry Landscape in 2015 – 16

The global sourcing market grew by 9-10% over 2013, amounting to nearly twice the global technology spend growth. In this context, the worldwide IT BPM spend accounted for nearly 2.3 trillion USD. Digital transformation is driving the market as witnessed with the global e-commerce market growing at 20 % reporting revenues in 2014 totaling 1.3 trillion USD.

With digitization, technology is emerging as a dual-anchor to growth - one which will be used for traditional applications to bring operational efficiencies and stability, and other for the modern systems that focuses on emerging applications and flexible adaptation to growing demands. This trend is likely to drive the enterprise digital transformation that maintains the millennial customer at its core.

Worldwide IT-BPM Spend

Worldwide IT-BPM spend was approximately to the tune of USD 2.3 trillion; accounting for a visible growth of 4.6 per cent since 2013 figures. Within the sectors displaying the most prominent growth rates was IT, software products and BPM. These three sectors alone accounted to almost 55 percent of the total spend.

There was a 9-10 percent growth in overall demand for global sourcing in comparison to 2013. One of the highlights was that India continued to lead this area with an impressive 55 percent share. This growth rate was mainly due to the sheer volume of delivery centres added in 2014. Verticals like media and communication, the government and healthcare fuelled this renewed demand for IT.

USD billion	2013	2014
Worldwide Services	635	657
Worldwide BPM	167	177
Worldwide Software	395	420
Worldwide Hardware	979	1022
Total	2,176	2,275
Worldwide Engineering Spend	1,400	1,440

- BFSI and manufacturing contributing to more than ~60 per cent of vertical spend
- Emerging verticals – healthcare, retail, government and utilities – contributing 12 per cent of spend
- Analytics, cloud implementation-growth drivers

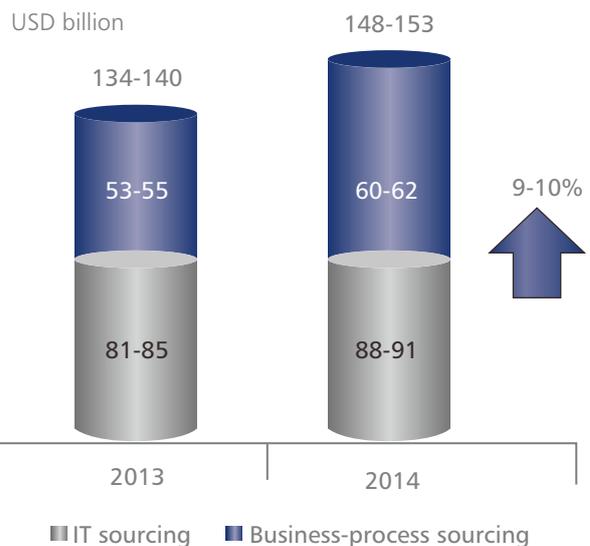

One of the leading factors impacting this sector and its growth was the volatility prevailing across the global economy like the fluctuation in oil prices etc. The IT-BPM sector was impacted to some extent as there were adverse effects due to changes in regulations, customer sentiments etc. across the globe.

Emerging technologies like SMAC, IoT (Internet of Things), wearable devices; all focused around improving customer experiences is changing the face of the industry. This has led to a dynamic value ecosystem digitally connecting products and services that combine to meet customer needs and deliver more business value.

While there were some signs towards economic revival in pockets worldwide, there was a dip in the overall contracting activities. In 2014, the total contract deal values was pegged at USD 113 billion, which was significantly lower by 23 percent than 2013. There was a visible drop in the overall number of deals in the industry too. While there was a decline by 7 percent in the M&A sizes, there was an increase of 44 percent growth across the offshore focused providers.

There is a promising growth trend within the Indian IT-BPM sector, as it weathered the trends pertaining to volatility and still stayed on the growth curve. The FY2015 revenue including exports and domestic is projected to surpass USD 146 billion, which is a clear 13 percent growth rate, and an overall Y-o-Y addition of USD 17 billion.

Exports, which also includes the hardware is expected to witness an impressive 12.3 per cent growth to surpass USD 98 billion. The contribution to India's GDP is expected to be around 9.5 percent, with the domestic market set to grow further than the exports. This part is expected to grow at 14 percent, mainly due to the increase in the eCommerce business potential. This will lead to anticipated domestic revenues at USD 48 billion which is a clear increase by USD 6 billion since last year.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of fixed asset are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Items of fixed assets that have been retired from active use and are held for disposal are stated at the lower of their net book value and net realisable value and are shown separately in the financial statements. Any expected loss is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Losses arising from the retirement of, and gains or losses arising from disposal of fixed assets which are carried at cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Tangible assets under construction are disclosed as capital work-in-progress.

g. Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for acquisition. Internally generated intangible asset arising from development activity is recognised at cost on demonstration of its technical feasibility, the intention and ability of the Company to complete, use or sell it, only if, it is probable that the asset would generate future economic benefit and the expenditure attributable to the said assets during its development can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization.

Capital Work-in-Progress includes the costs of fixed assets that are not ready for their intended use at the Balance Sheet date.

Goodwill arising on acquisition of business is presented as an intangible asset. Goodwill comprises the excess of purchase consideration over the carrying value of the net assets of the acquired business.

h. Depreciation and Amortisation

Depreciation on fixed assets is computed on a straight-line method as per the useful lives prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following assets (based on technical evaluation):

Class of Asset	Useful life as prescribed in Schedule II	Useful life as followed by the Company
Server and Networking Equipment	6 years	4 years

The Company has during the year revised the estimated useful life of Computers from 4 years to 3 years as specified in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. Accordingly, the written down value of the assets, where the remaining useful life as on April 1, 2014 is NIL, has been recognised in the opening balance of retained earnings, based on the transitional provision referred to in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

The impact on account of this change on the profit for the year, is not material.

ii. Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are amortised on straight line basis over their estimated useful lives:

Class of Asset	Useful Life
Intangible Assets – Software	1-3 years
Goodwill	5 years
Technical Know-how	3 years

i. Impairment

The assessment is done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an asset (tangible and intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/cash generating unit is made. Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

j. Investments

Investments that are readily realisable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date, on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long term investments. Current investments are carried at cost or fair value, whichever is lower. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution is made to recognise a decline, other than temporary, in the value of the investments, such reduction being determined and made for each investment individually.

k. Employee Retirement Benefits

i. Provident Fund:

Provident Fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Company. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of the year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise.

The contributions made to the trust are recognised as plan assets. The defined benefit obligation recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as reduced by the fair value of plan assets.

ii. Gratuity:

The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan (the "Gratuity Plan") covering eligible employees in accordance with the Scheme. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, and as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

iii. Superannuation:

The Company has Defined Contribution Plans for Post-employment benefits for eligible employees in the form of Superannuation Fund administered by the Life Insurance Corporation of India.

The Company has Defined Contribution Plans for Post-employment benefits for all employees in the form of Family Pension Fund administered by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner.

These funds are classified as defined contribution plans as the Company has no further obligation beyond making the contributions. The Company's contributions to Defined Contribution Plans are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as and when incurred.

iv. Compensated Absences:

Accumulated compensated absences, which are expected to be availed or encashed within 12 months from the end of the year are treated as short term employee benefits. The obligation towards the same is measured at the expected cost of accumulating compensated absences as the additional amount expected to be paid as a result of the unused entitlement as at the year end.

Accumulated compensated absences, which are expected to be availed or encashed beyond 12 months from the end of the year are treated as other long term employee benefits. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise.

I. Foreign Currency Transactions

i) On initial recognition, all foreign currency transactions are recorded by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

- ii) As at the reporting date, non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.
- iii) Monetary assets and monetary liabilities denominated in foreign currency at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates, and the resulting exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except for the exchange differences arising on monetary item that, in substance, form a part of the Company's net investment in non-integral foreign operation, which are accumulated in a Foreign Currency Translation Reserve until the disposal of net investment.
- iv) Foreign operations are classified as either 'integral' or 'non-integral' operations. Exchange differences arising on a monetary item that, in substance, forms part of an enterprise's net investment in a non-integral foreign operation are accumulated in the Foreign Currency Translation Reserve until the disposal of the net investment, at which time they are recognised as income or as expenses. The Financial statements of an integral foreign operation are translated using the principles and procedures as if the translations of the foreign operation are those of the Company itself.

m. Financial Instruments

The Company early adopted Accounting Standard (AS) 30 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, along with the consequent limited revisions to other accounting standards, except so far as they are in conflict with other mandatory accounting standards and other regulatory requirements.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge its exposure to movements in foreign exchange rates. The use of these foreign exchange forward contracts reduces the risk or cost to the Company and the Company does not use the foreign exchange forward contracts for trading or speculation purposes.

Forward contracts are fair valued at each reporting date. Changes in the fair values of forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges are recognized directly in the Hedging Reserve Account and reclassified into the Statement of Profit and Loss upon the occurrence of the hedged transaction. Changes in fair value relating to the ineffective portion of the hedges and derivatives not designated as hedges are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

Non-Derivative Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial assets of the Company mainly include cash and bank balances, trade receivables, accrued income (unbilled services), employee travel and other advances, other loans and advances and derivative financial instruments with a positive fair value. Financial liabilities of the Company mainly comprise trade payables, accrued expenses and derivative financial instruments with a negative fair value. Financial assets / liabilities are recognized on the Balance Sheet when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Company assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the amount of impairment loss as the difference between the assets carrying amount and undiscounted amount of future cash flows, which is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Company measures the short-term payables with no stated rate of interest at original invoice amount, if the effect of discounting is immaterial.

n. Employee Stock Option Schemes

Stock options granted to employees under Employee Stock Option 2002 Scheme and Employee Stock Option 2006 Scheme are accounted as per the accounting treatment prescribed by Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme Guidelines, 1999, issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India and the guidance note on employee share based payment issued by ICAI. Accordingly, the intrinsic value of the option being the excess of the market value of the stock options as on the date of the grant over the exercise price of the options is recognised as deferred employee compensation and is charged to Statement of Profit and Loss over the vesting period. In the case of graded vesting, the vesting period is determined separately for each portion of the option. The unamortised portion of the cost is shown under "Reserves and Surplus".

The options that lapse are reversed by credit to employee compensation expense, equal to the amortised portion of value of lapsed portion and credit to deferred employee compensation expense equal to the un-amortised portion.

o. Taxation

Current Tax

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the taxation laws prevailing in the respective jurisdictions.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax for timing differences between the book profits and tax profits is accounted for using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as of the Balance Sheet date. Deferred tax assets arising from the timing differences are recognised to the extent there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for tax loss and depreciation carried forward to the extent that the realisation of the related tax benefit through the future taxable profits is virtually certain and is supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable profits can be realised.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT)

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay income tax higher than that computed under MAT, during the period that MAT is permitted to be set off under the Income Tax Act, 1961 (specified period). In the year, in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset in accordance with the recommendations contained in the guidance note issued by the ICAI, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the Statement of Profit and Loss and shown as MAT credit entitlement. The Company reviews the same at each Balance Sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT credit entitlement to the extent there is no longer convincing evidence to the effect that Company will pay income tax higher than MAT during the specified period.

p. Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event and, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. Provisions are determined based on best estimate required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date. Provisions are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect current best estimates. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources.

q. Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The number of shares used in computing diluted earnings per share comprises the weighted average shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares which would have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period unless they have been issued at a later date.

r. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, demand deposits with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

2. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") with respect to the preparation of these consolidated financial statements to give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in India including the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and Accounting Standard 30, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India to the extent it does not contradict any other accounting standard referred to in Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

4. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing and other applicable authoritative pronouncements issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and pronouncements require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.
5. An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view, in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Company's Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

6. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Opinion

7. We report that the consolidated financial statements have been prepared by the Company's Management in accordance with the requirements of Accounting Standard (AS) 21 – Consolidated Financial Statements specified under Section 133 of the Act, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and Accounting Standard 30, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India to the extent it does not contradict any other accounting standard referred to in Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014.

(c) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

(d) Revenue Recognition

- i) Revenues from software maintenance, development and allied services consist of revenues earned from time-and-material, fixed-timeframe and fixed price contracts.
 - (a) Revenue from time and material contracts are recognised as the related services are performed.
 - (b) Revenues from fixed price contracts are recognized using the proportionate completion method of accounting. The cumulative impact of any revision in estimates of the stage of completion is reflected in the period in which the change becomes known. Provisions for estimated losses on such engagements are made during the period in which such losses becomes probable and can be reasonably estimated. However, where the ultimate collection of the sale lacks reasonable certainty, revenue recognition is postponed to the extent of such uncertainty.

Amounts included in the financial statements, which relate to recoverable costs and accrued profits not yet billed on contracts, are included in other current assets as Accrued Income (Unbilled Services). Billings on incomplete contracts in excess of accrued costs and accrued profits are included in other current liabilities as Deferred Revenue.

- (c) Revenue from the sale of user licences for software applications is recognised on transfer of the title in the user licence.
- ii) Revenue from IT hardware maintenance, outsourcing and other support services for data centers is typically billed in advance, deferred and recognized ratably over the service period. Contract period is generally one year.
- iii) Revenues from product sale are recognized upon shipment as the Company has no future obligation. The Company also enters into multiple deliverable arrangements where company provides telephone support in addition to products and services of OEM, the entire revenue is deferred and recognized ratably over the telephone support service period, generally one year, as the Company has not established fair value of telephone support services. The Company accounts for volume discounts to customers as a reduction of revenue based on the ratably allocation of discount amount to each of the underlying revenue transactions that result in progress by the customer towards earning the discount. Also, when the level of discount varies with increases in levels of revenue transactions, the Company recognises the liability based on its estimate of the customer's future purchases. If it is probable that the criteria for the discount will not be met, or if the amount thereof cannot be estimated reliably, then the discount is not recognised until the payment is probable and the amount can be estimated reliably. The Company recognises changes in the estimated amount of obligations for discounts using a cumulative catch-up approach. The discounts are passed on to the customer or as a reduction of payments due from the customer.

Amounts included in the financial statements, which relate to recoverable costs and accrued profits not yet billed on contracts, are classified in current assets as Accrued Income (Unbilled Services). Billings on incomplete contracts in excess of accrued costs and accrued profits are classified in current liabilities as unearned revenue.

(e) Tangible Assets

Tangible assets are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation. Cost of tangible assets comprises purchase price, duties, levies and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working conditions for the intended use, net of refundable taxes.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of fixed asset are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Items of fixed assets that have been retired from active use and are held for disposal are stated at the lower of their net book value and net realisable value and are shown separately in the financial statements. Any expected loss is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Losses arising from the retirement of, and gains or losses arising from disposal of fixed assets which are carried at cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Tangible assets under construction are disclosed as capital work-in-progress.

(f) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for acquisition. Internally generated intangible asset arising from development activity is recognised at cost on demonstration of its technical feasibility, the intention and ability of the Company to complete, use or sell it, only if, it is probable that the asset would generate future economic benefit and the expenditure attributable to the said assets during its development can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization.

Capital Work-in-Progress includes the costs of fixed assets that are not ready for their intended use at the Balance Sheet date.

Goodwill arising on acquisition of business is presented as an intangible asset. Goodwill comprises the excess of purchase consideration over the carrying value of the net assets of the acquired business.

(g) Depreciation and Amortisation

Depreciation on fixed assets is computed on a straight-line method as per the useful lives prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following assets (based on technical evaluation) (Refer Note 11):

Class of Asset	Useful life as prescribed in Schedule II	Useful life as followed by the Company
Server and Networking Equipment	6 years	4 years

Intangible assets are amortised on straight line basis over their estimated useful lives:

Class of Asset	Useful Life
Intangible Assets – Software	1-3 years
Goodwill	5 years
Technical Know-how	3 years

(h) Leases

As a lessee:

Finance Lease

Assets acquired under finance lease agreements are capitalised at the inception of lease, at lower of the fair value and present value of minimum lease payments, and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Lease rentals are allocated between the liability and the Finance cost, so as to obtain a uniform periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period. The outstanding

liability is included in borrowings. The Finance cost is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss over the lease period.

Operating Lease

Lease arrangements under which all risks and rewards of ownership are effectively retained by the lessor are classified as operating lease. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on straight line basis over the period of lease.

(i) Impairment

The assessment is done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an asset (tangible and intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/cash generating unit is made. Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

(j) Investments

Investments that are readily realisable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date, on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long term investments. Current investments are carried at cost or fair value, whichever is lower. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution is made to recognise a decline, other than temporary, in the value of the investments, such recognition being determined and made for each investment individually.

(k) Employee Retirement Benefits

i) Provident Fund - Provident Fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Company. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of the year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise.

The contributions made to the trust are recognised as plan assets. The defined benefit obligation recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as reduced by the fair value of plan assets.

ii) Gratuity - The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan (the "Gratuity Plan") covering eligible employees in accordance with the Scheme. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, and as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. The obligation towards the same is measured at the expected cost of accumulating compensated absences as the additional amount expected to be paid as a result of the unused entitlement as at the year end.

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2015 (Contd.)

Accumulated compensated absences, which are expected to be availed or encashed beyond 12 months from the end of the year are treated as other long term employee benefits. (l) Foreign Currency Translations

- i) On initial recognition, all foreign currency transactions are recorded by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.
- ii) As at the reporting date, non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.
- iii) Monetary assets and monetary liabilities denominated in foreign currency at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates, and the resulting exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except for the exchange differences arising on monetary item that, in substance, form a part of the Company's net investment in non-integral foreign operation, which are accumulated in a Foreign Currency Translation Reserve until the disposal of net investment.
- iv) Foreign operations are classified as either 'integral' or 'non-integral' operations. Exchange differences arising on a monetary item that, in substance, forms part of an enterprise's net investment in a non-integral foreign operation are accumulated in the Foreign Currency Translation Reserve until the disposal of the net investment, at which time they are recognised as income or as expenses. The Financial statements of an integral foreign operation are translated using the principles and procedures as if the translations of the foreign operation are those of the Company itself.

(m) Financial Instruments

The Company early adopted Accounting Standard (AS) 30 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, along with the consequent limited revisions to other accounting standards, except so far as they are in conflict with other mandatory accounting standards and other regulatory requirements.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company uses foreign exchange forward contracts to hedge its exposure to movements in foreign exchange rates. The use of these foreign exchange forward contracts reduces the risk or cost to the Company and the Company does not use the foreign exchange forward contracts for trading or speculation purposes.

Forward contracts are fair valued at each reporting date. Changes in the fair values of forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges are recognized directly in the Hedging Reserve Account and reclassified into the Statement of Profit and Loss upon the occurrence of the hedged transaction. Changes in fair value relating to the ineffective portion of the hedges and derivatives not designated as hedges are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

Non - Derivate Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial assets of the Company mainly include cash and bank balances, trade receivables, accrued income (unbilled services), employee travel and other advances, other loans and advances and derivative financial instruments with a positive fair value. Financial liabilities of the Company mainly comprise trade payables, accrued expenses and derivative financial instruments with a negative fair value. Financial assets / liabilities are recognized on the Balance Sheet when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Company assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the amount of impairment loss as the difference between the assets carrying amount and undiscounted amount of future cash flows, which is recognised in the Statement of Profit

and Loss. The Company measures the short-term payables with no stated rate of interest at original invoice amount, if the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(n) Employee Stock Option Schemes

Stock options granted to employees under Employee Stock Option 2002 Scheme and Employee Stock Option 2006 Scheme are accounted as per the accounting treatment prescribed by Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme Guidelines, 1999, issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India and the guidance note on employee share based payment issued by ICAI. Accordingly, the intrinsic value of the option being the excess of the market value of the stock options as on the date of the grant over the exercise price of the options is recognised as deferred employee compensation and is charged to Statement of Profit and Loss over the vesting period. In the case of graded vesting, the vesting period is determined separately for each portion of the option. The unamortised portion of the cost is shown under "Reserves and Surplus".

The options that lapse are reversed by credit to employee compensation expense, equal to the amortised portion of value of lapsed portion and credit to deferred employee compensation expense equal to the un-amortised portion.

(o) Taxation

Current Tax

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the taxation laws prevailing in the respective jurisdictions.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax for timing differences between the book profits and tax profits is accounted for using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as of the Balance Sheet date. Deferred tax assets arising from the timing differences are recognised to the extent there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for tax loss and depreciation carried forward to the extent that the realisation of the related tax benefit through the future taxable profits is virtually certain and is supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable profits can be realised.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT)

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay income tax higher than that computed under MAT, during the period that MAT is permitted to be set off under the Income Tax Act, 1961 (specified period). In the year, in which the MAT credit comes eligible to be recognized as an asset in accordance with the recommendations contained in the guidance note issued by the ICAI, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the Statement of Profit and Loss and shown as MAT credit entitlement. The Company reviews the same at each Balance Sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT credit entitlement to the extent there is no longer convincing evidence to the effect that Company will pay income tax higher than MAT during the specified period.

(p) Cash & Cash Equivalents

In the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, demand deposits with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

(q) Consolidated Cash Flow Statement

Cash flow are reported using the "Indirect Method", whereby consolidated net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities of the group are segregated.

(r) Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The number of shares used in computing diluted earnings per share comprises the weighted average shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares which would have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period unless they have been issued at a later date.

(s) Goodwill

The excess of cost to the Company of its investments in the subsidiaries over its share in the equity of the subsidiaries, at the dates on which the investments in the subsidiaries are made, is recognized as 'Goodwill' being an asset in the consolidated financial statements. Goodwill arising on consolidation is not amortised.

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2015 (Contd.)

Goodwill arising on purchase of business is recorded at the excess of the purchase price over the net assets taken over of the business and is amortised over five years. Goodwill is reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. If impairment is indicated, the asset is written down to its fair value.

(t) Inventories

Inventories comprise of replacement computer parts. Parts are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories are determined using a weighted average cost formula and net realisable value based on purchase price. If part has not been purchased within the last 12 months, then net realisable value is based on vendor quote.

(u) Provisions and Contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event and, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. Provisions are determined based on best estimate required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date. Provisions are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect current best estimates. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

29. Segment Information

The Company recognises each of the SBUs as its primary segments. Secondary segmental reporting is done on the basis of the geographical location of clients.

The accounting principles used in the preparation of financial statements are also consistently applied to record income and expenditure in individual segments. These are as set out in the note on significant accounting policies.

Income and expenditure in relation to segments is categorised based on items that are individually identifiable to the segment, marketing costs are allocated based on revenue and the remainder of the costs are allocated based on resources. Certain expenses like depreciation are not specifically allocable to a segment as the underlying assets are used interchangeably. The Company believes that it is not practical to provide segment disclosures relating to these expenses and accordingly these expenses are separately disclosed as "unallocated" and directly charged against total income.

Fixed assets used in the Company's business or liabilities contracted have not been identified to any segment as the fixed assets and services are used interchangeably between segments. Accordingly no disclosure relating to total segment assets and liabilities is made.
